Proper Representative Will Not Be Automatic Register

Will Seek to Lead Constituents to Correct Conclusions, Says Former Governor Lowden.

Galesburg Ill Feb 15—The self respecting representative of government will seek to lead his constituents to correct conclusions upon questions of governmental policy and will not be content to be a mere automatic register of his informed popular will said former Governor Frank O Lowden in speaking at the eighty-fifth Knox college founders day celebration here Wednesday.

Representative government he continued is found wanting by some as in some mysterious way encroaching upon rights of the people. Just the opposite is true If the citizen were not permitted to employ a lawyer or a physician would he not complain of the loss of his rights? So if he be not permitted to govern through a representative of his own choosing but must govern himself directly is he not equally suffering a diminution of his liberty of action.

FEDERAL INTRUSION

"The federal principle of government has never employed on so large a scale before. It was the question of federal or state government that was the cause of the civil war. The federal principle won then and it has survived the test of armed rebellion. It is constantly confronted with dangers of a more insidious kind. The federal government tends to encroach more and more upon the just prerogatives of the state. Bureaucracy at Washington is always alert to extend its power.

STATES JEALOUS OF RIGHTS

Hitherto it has found the states jealous of their rights and capable of resisting this tendency. So the bureaucracies now seek to gain by bribes what they failed to gain by other means. During the great war the federal government in order to give unity to our efforts undertook to do many things which the states had formerly done. It intruded into the administration of almost every field of state activities such as education employment and public health.

This resulted in a measure in the demoralization of state administrative agencies and therefore a lowering of the vitality of the state. The bureaucracies are now loathe to give up this power.

SEEK TO SALVE WOUNDS

"They seek to salve the wounded hides of the states by offers of large federal appropriations. Propaganda is being carried on day by day under the guise of liberal contributions to the state which will result in taking from the federal treasury hundreds of millions of dollars for objects which must remain in care of the state if the state is to remain an entity in our national system.

The rapid government toward centralization at Washington must be checked or the value of the federal principle will be dissipated forever.

The President's voice heard by the nation

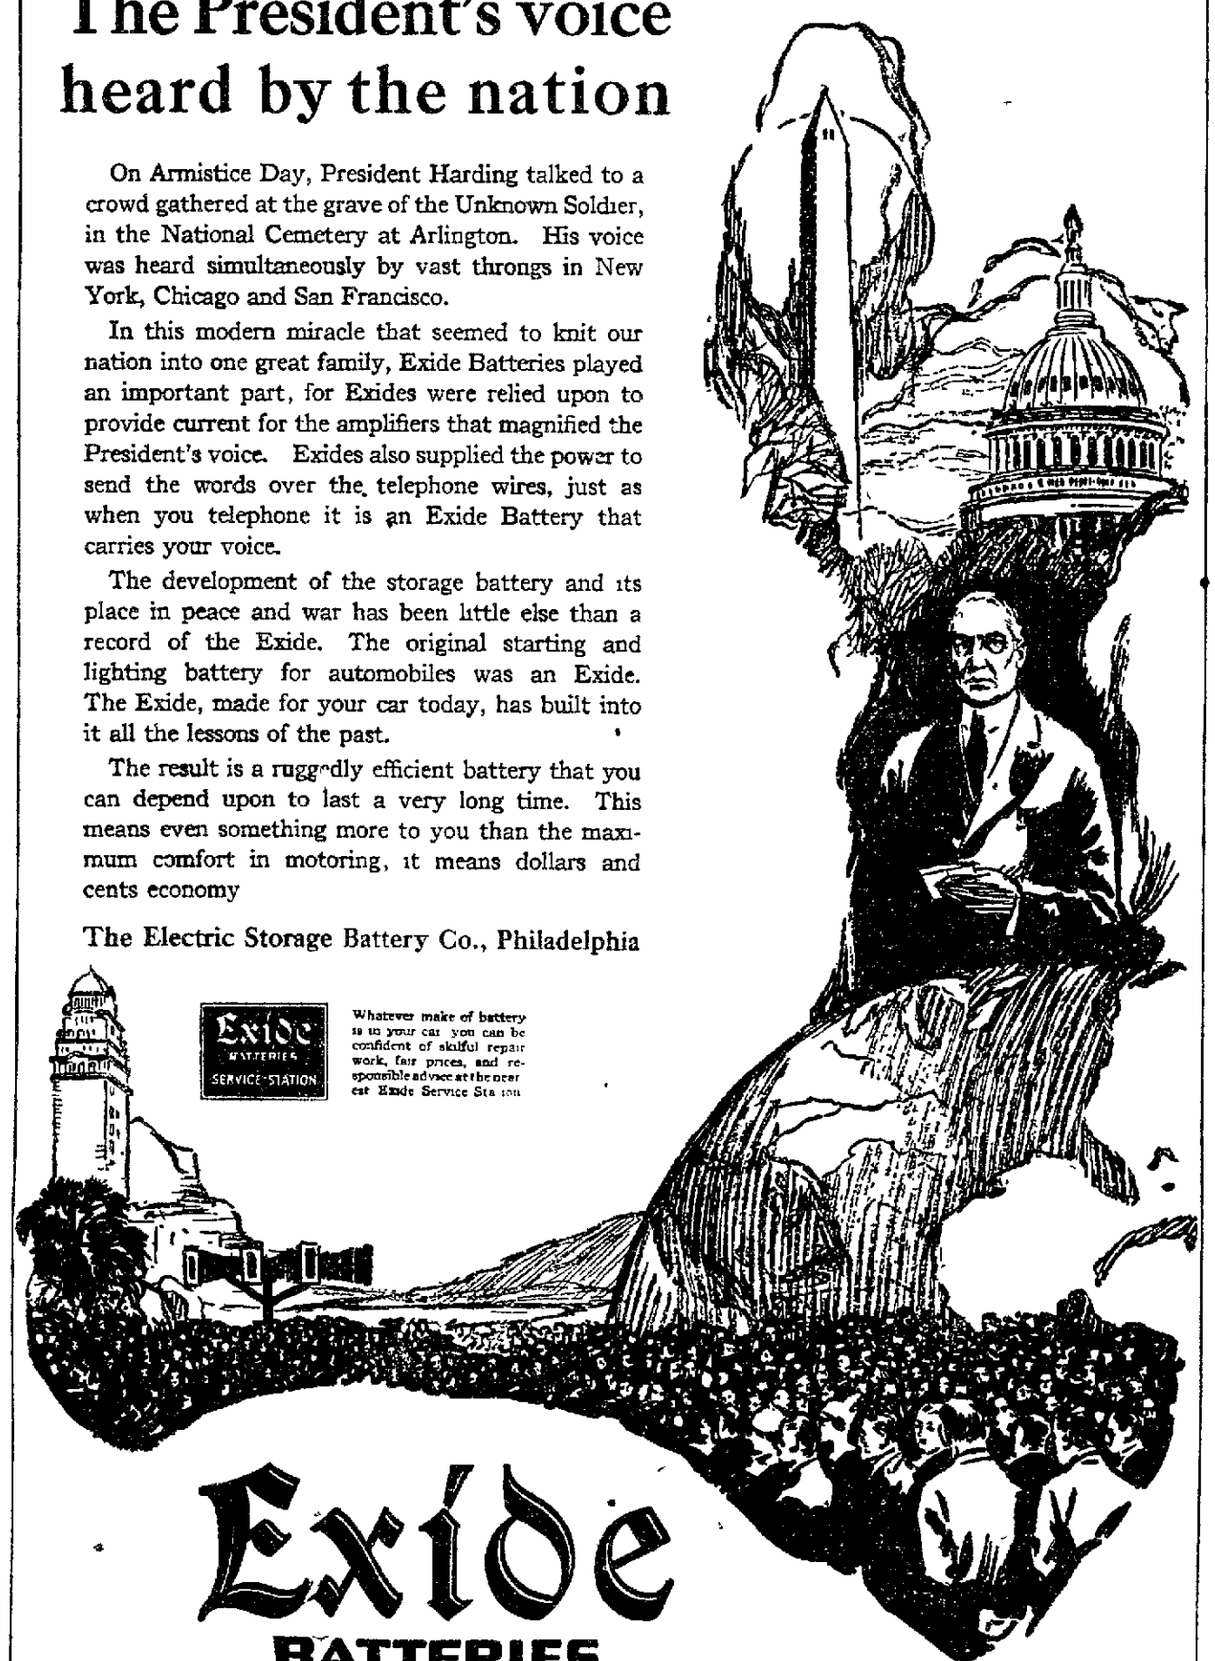

On Armistice Day, President Harding talked to a crowd gathered at the grave of the Unknown Soldier, in the National Cemetery at Arlington. His voice was heard simultaneously by vast throngs in New York, Chicago and San Francisco.

In this modern miracle that seemed to knit our nation into one great family, Exide Batteries played an important part, for Exides were relied upon to provide current for the amplifiers that magnified the President's voice. Exides also supplied the power to send the words over the telephone wires, just as when you telephone it is an Exide Battery that carries your voice.

The development of the storage battery and its place in peace and war has been little else than a record of the Exide. The original starting and lighting battery for automobiles was an Exide. The Exide, made for your car today, has built into it all the lessons of the past.

The result is a ruggedly efficient battery that you can depend upon to last a very long time. This means even something more to you than the maximum comfort in motoring, it means dollars and cents economy

PULPIT, PRESS, PROFESSION, UNITE IN PRAISE OF PEPGEN

Prominent Ministers Agree With Doctors and Newspaper Men Relative to Remarkable Merit of This New Discovery and Submit Opinions for Publication.

INTERESTING NEWS COMES TO LIGHT HERE

Decatur Woman Says: "I Had to Live Entirely On Milk Because of Stomach Trouble. Pepgen Improved Me in Every Way. I Have An Excellent Appetite Now."

A great many people are telling how they have been relieved by a new medical discovery known as "Pepgen," which is now being introduced by the Decatur Drug Company.

This is the same medicine that has won indorsements from the pulpit, the press and the profession in Pittsburgh Cleveland and Cincinnati. Following are extracts from utterances of prominent ministers, newspaper men and physicians who live in these cities:

The Rev. Charles A. Scholl, 117 West Ohio Street, Pittsburgh, Pa., says: "I am 59 years of age and I have been a student all of my life. I speak of this because people who read what I have to say about Pepgen will know that it comes from one who has had many years of experience and who has spent his life in study.

"I took Pepgen for my kidneys and I conscientiously state that it has benefitted me. I began having kidney trouble about twenty years ago and have been ailing ever since. Pepgen helped me and I am glad to recommend it publicly. I am not a person who would give a statement like this unless the article I indorsed was a good one. I gave Pepgen a thorough trial and it proved beneficial. To all of my friends and to others I say: 'Pepgen is a good medicine. It helped me and therefore I recommend it to you.'"

Another authority who recommends Pepgen is Dr. J. H. King. Dr. King is a graduate of the Ohio State University. During an epidemic of disease in the city of Cleveland several years ago Dr. King was appointed vaccinating officer. He recently moved from that city to Erie, Pa., where he now resides at 142 East Second street. In regard to Pepgen, Dr. King says:

"I was troubled with dyspepsia for fifteen years. Pepgen gave me great relief. It stopped formations of gas on my stomach. I consider Pepgen a splendid tonic and appetizer. I am glad to recommend it."

D. J. O'Donnell is a newspaper publisher. He is widely known in Cincinnati and Dayton, Ohio. His residence is in the latter city. He says of Pepgen: "I was in a badly run-down condition of health when I started to take it. My food didn't seem to give me strength. Something was surely wrong with my digestion. I felt tired and draggy. Since taking Pepgen I feel like a new man. I wouldn't take one thousand dollars for the good that Pepgen did for me."

Hundreds of people who live right here in Decatur relate similar experiences. Among them is Mrs. O. K. Gray, 142 East Second Street, this city. She says: "I suffered with stomach trouble. My stomach was so badly disordered that I almost lived on malted milk. Pepgen helped me in every respect. I now have a good appetite and am certainly glad to recommend Pepgen."

Those who wish to know more about Pepgen may do so at the Decatur Drug Company, or at any other leading drug store anywhere.

Give It to Them—

This trial tube—watch their teeth improve

If you prefer, let your children make this test. Let them brush their teeth a few days in this modern way. Then look and see what film removal means.

This is a way to whiter, cleaner, safer teeth. Millions now employ it. Leading dentists everywhere advise it. Let someone in your home this week show the benefits it brings.

Why teeth look dingy

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. You can feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, gets between the teeth and stays. It dims and may ruin teeth.

Ordinary tooth pastes do not effectively combat it. So film-coats have been almost universal.

Film absorbs stains, making the teeth look dingy. Film is the basis of tartar. It holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay.

Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. Thus most tooth troubles are now traced to film, and, despite the tooth brush, they have constantly increased.

Must remove it daily

Dental science has long been seeking a daily film combatant. Now two effective methods have been found. Authorities have proved them by many careful tests.

A new-day tooth paste has been perfected, to comply with modern requirements. And these two film combatants are embodied in it. The name of the tooth paste is Pepsodent.

Millions of people of some forty races now employ it daily, largely by dental advice.

Two other new effects

Pepsodent brings two other effects which authorities now deem essential.

It multiplies the starch digestant in saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer for the acids which cause decay.

Every application gives these great tooth-protecting forces multiplied effect.

Pepsodent REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

Real protection now

Now you can know what really clean teeth mean. Pepsodent fights film-coats, starch and acids—all the great tooth enemies. Then it leaves the mouth in normal alkaline condition. The glistening teeth you see everywhere now show something of the benefits it brings.

New beauty in a week

The Pepsodent effects are quickly seen and felt. This test will be a revelation to you.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Note the refreshing taste it leaves.

ERSKINE DALE PIONEER

By John Fox, Jr.

Copyright 1919 1920 by Charles Scribner's Sons

BEGIN HERE TODAY

WHITE ARROW, a boy of fifteen, escapes from the Shawnee Indians by whom he has been reared and takes refuge in a settler's stockade in the "dark and bloody" ground of Pre-Revolutionary Kentucky. He states that he was captured by Indians in infancy and that his mother, taken prisoner with him, was killed.

The Indians attack the fort and a Virginian, mortally wounded, recognizes White Arrow as his son. White Arrow's real name is Erskine Dale.

DAVID YANDELL, a pioneer, acts as guardian and sends Erskine to Red Oakes, the great Dale plantation on the River James. Erskine is kindly received by his father's younger brother, COLONEL DALE, and by his cousins, BARBARA and HARRY.

GO ON WITH THE STORY.

"Get ready for supper, Hugh—come on, cousin," he said, and led the stranger to his room and pointed to the clothes on the bed.

"Don't they fit?" he asked smiling.

"I don't know—I don't know how to git into 'em."

Young Harry laughed joyously.

"Take off your war-dress," he said, "and I'll show you."

With heartwarming to such kindness, and helpless against it, the lad obeyed like a child and was dressed like a child.

V

THE boy stood at a window looking out into the gathering dusk. His eye could catch the last red glow on the yellow river.

Over in his own wilds at that hour they were driving cows and horses into the stockade. A man had gone to each of the watch-towers. From the blackening woods came the curdling cry of a panther and the hooting of owls.

Away on over the still westward wilds were the wigwams of squaws, pappooses, braves, red in skin, in blood, in heart, and red with hate against the whites.

There all was hardship—danger; here all was comfort and peace. He had come, but he would not stay long away. The door opened, and Harry Dale came eagerly in.

The two boys paused in the hall and Harry pointed to a pair of crossed rapiers over the mantelpiece.

"Those were your father's," he said; "he was a wonderful fencer."

The lad shook his head in ignorance, and Harry smiled.

"I'll show you tomorrow."

Barbara almost cried out her astonishment and pleasure when she saw what a handsome figure he made in his new clothing. From under Hugh's feet the ground for the moment was quite taken away, so much to the eye, at least, do clothes make the man. Just then General Willoughby bowed with noble dignity before Mrs. Dale, and the two led the way to the dining-room.

"Harry," she said, "you and Barbara take care of your cousin."

And almost without knowing it the young Kentuckian bowed to Barbara who courtesied and took his arm. But for his own dignity and hers she would have liked to squeal her delight. The little woodsman saw the men draw back chairs for the ladies, and he drew back Barbara's before Hugh, on the other side of her could forestall him. On his left was Harry, and Harry he watched keenly—but no more keenly than Hugh watched him.

One glass of wine he took, and the quick dizziness that assailed him frightened him, and he did not touch it again. Beyond Barbara, Hugh leaned forward and lifted his glass to him. He shook his head and Hugh flushed.

"Our Kentucky cousin is not very polite—he is something of a barbarian—naturally."

"He doesn't understand," said Barbara quickly, who had noted the incident, and she turned to her cousin.

Hugh then turned to his wine and began soon to look more flushed and sulky. Shortly after the ladies left, Hugh followed them, and Harry and the Kentuckian moved toward the head of the table where the men had gathered around Colonel Dale.

"Yes," sad General Willoughby, "it looks as though it might come."

"With due deference to Mr. Brockton," said Colonel Dale, with a bow to the tutor from England, "it looks as though his country would soon force us to some action."

They were talking about the impending war. Through hall and doorways came now merry sounds of fiddle and bando.

"Come on, cousin," said Harry; "can you dance?"

"If your dances are as different as everything else, I reckon not, but I can try."

Near a doorway between parlor and hall sat the fiddlers three. Gallant bows and dainty courtesyings and nimble feet were tripping measures.

"I know that dance," Erskine said to Harry, who told Barbara, and the little girl went up to him again, and flushing, he took place with her on the floor. Hugh came up.

"Cousin Barbara, this is our dance, I believe," he said a little thickly.

The girl took him aside and Hugh went surlily away. Harry saw the incident and he looked after Hugh, frowning. The backwoodsman conducted himself very well. He was lithe and graceful and at first very dignified, but as he grew in confidence he began to execute steps that were new to that polite land and rather boisterous, but Barbara looked pleased and all onlookers seemed greatly amused—all except Hugh.

When the last dance came and the dancers were drawn in two lines, the boy who was third from the end heard Harry's low voice behind him:

"He is my cousin and my guest and you will answer to me."

The lad wheeled, saw Harry with Hugh, left his place, and went to them. He spoke to Harry, but he looked at Hugh with a sword-flash in each black eye:

"I don't want nobody to take up for me."

Again he wheeled and was in his place, but Barbara saw and looked troubled, and so did Colonel Dale.

The guests left with gayety, smiles and laughter, and everyone gave the stranger a kindly goodby. Again Harry went with him to his room and the lad stopped again under the crossed swords.

"You fight with 'em?"

"Yes, and with pistols."

"I've never had a pistol. I want to learn how to use them."

Harry looked at him searchingly, but the boy's face gave hint of no more purpose than when he first asked the same question.

VI

FROM pioneer habit he awoke before dawn He slid into his own buckskin clothes and moccasins and out the still open front door and down the path toward the river. Instinctively he had picked up his rifle, bullet-pouch, and powder-horn. Up the river to the right he could faintly see dark woods, and he plunged into them with his eyes on the ground for signs of game, but he saw tracks only of coon and skunk and fox, and he grunted his disgust and loped ahead for half an hour farther into the heart of the woods.

An hour later he loped back on his own tracks. He came noiselessly behind a negro woman at the kitchen-door and threw three squirrels on the steps before her. She gave a shriek, but recovered herself and picked them up. Her amazement grew as she looked them over, for there was no sign of a bullet-wound, and she went in to tell how the Injun boy must naturally just "charm 'em right out o' de trees."

Colonel Dale soon came in

"You've got the servants mystified," he said laughingly. "How did you kill those squirrels?"

"I couldn't see their heads—so I barked 'em"

"Barked?"

"I shot between the bark and the limb right under the squirrel, an' the shock kills 'em. Uncle Dan'l Boone showed me how to do that."

"Daniel Boone!" breathed Harry. "Do you know Daniel Boone?"

And then Hugh came in, pale of face and looking rather ashamed. He went straight to the Kentuckian.

"I was rude to you last night and I owe you an apology."

He thrust out his hand and awkwardly the boy rose and took it.

"And you'll forgive me, too, Barbara?"

"Of course I will," she said happily.

"I DON'T WANT NOBODY TO TAKE UP FOR ME."

After breakfast Harry brought out two foils and two masks.

"We fight with those," he said, pointing to the crossed rapiers on the wall, "but we practice with these. Hugh, there, is the champion fencer," he said, "and he'll show you." They crossed foils—Hugh giving instructions all the time and nodding approval.

"You'll learn—you'll learn fast," he said. And over his shoulder to Harry:

"Why, his wrist is as strong as mine now, and he's got an eye like a weasel."

With a twist he wrenched the foil from his antagonist's hand. The Kentuckian was bewildered.

"You can't do that again"

"I don't believe I can," laughed Hugh.

A little later Barbara and her cousin were trotting smartly along a sandy road through the fields with the colonel and Hugh loping in front of them.

Firefly was a black mettlesome gelding. He had reared and plunged when Hugh mounted, but the lad sat him with an unconcern of his capers that held the Kentucky boy's eyes.

For an hour they drove ,the boy could hardly believe that this country was once as wild as his own—that this was to be impoverished and his own become even a richer land. Many questions the little girl asked—and some of his answers made her shudder.

"Papa said last night that several of our kinsfolk spoke of going to your country in a party, and Harry and Hugh are crazy to go with them. Papa said people would be swarming over the Cumberland Mountains before long"

ALL ALCOHOL MUST BE LABELED

Some Dealers Leave Off "Denatured."

The following letter of warning has been received from the Federal Prohibition Commissioner and is issued for the information of the public by G. W. Schwaner, Collector of Internal Revenue, Springfield, Illinois:

"It has been brought to the attention of this office that persons who sell denatured alcohol at retail frequently advertise by means of signs, posters, etc., in or about their places of business, announcing that "alcohol" is for sale, without any qualifying words such as "denatured" or "completely denatured," in violation of Section 17 of the National Prohibition Act. It is charged that such retailers also frequently sell completely denatured alcohol without placing on the container thereof the precautionary "Poison" label required by Article 108 of Regulations 61.

"Inasmuch as such illegal practices menace the health and lives of persons who might be misled into believing that the alcohol is pure, it is desired that you will immediately warn, proprietors of garages, paint shops and hardware stores, and other retail dealers in denatured alcohol generally that parties guilty of such practices must immediately discontinue them, and that anyone failing to do so will be reported to the United States Attorney for prosecution."

Y. W. C. A. REPORTS SHOW BIG YEAR

Annual Banquet Served to 175 Persons.

TWO NEW DIRECTORS

Ten Others Reelected for Three Years.

That splendid work has been done in all departments of the Y. W. C. A. during the last year was evident from the reports made at the annual meeting of the association Tuesday evening. The meeting followed a delightful banquet served in the dining room to about 175 persons.

The various departments were seated together and they added to the interest of the occasion by their songs and yells. Red and white were the colors carried out in the decorations, and the red hearts suspended from the lights reminded the guests that it was valentine day. Each table was provided with flowers.

TWO NEW DIRECTORS.

The voting during the day for the directors resulted in the re-election of ten of the directors and election of two new ones. The new directors are Mrs. A. H. Eyman and Miss Gussie Gorin. The directors re-elected are Mrs. F. M. Anderson, Miss Maria Buckingham, Mrs. Guy P. Lewis, Miss Mary Love, Mrs. A. T. Mills, Mrs. R. R. Montgomery, Mrs. T. T. Roberts, Mrs. G. W. Weyl, Mrs. C. Martin Wood, and Mrs. William Barnes. They were elected for three years.

Mrs. Elizabeth Wells presided in the absence of the president, Miss Alice Roberts.

Dr. Harriet Day Chandler reported a large number of girls and women enrolled in the various activities of the gymnasium department. Miss Margaret Winslow, general secretary, gave a resume of the work of all the departments and emphasized the purpose of the association, the forming of Christian character.

$213 DEFICIT.

The treasurer's report, given by Mrs. Guy Lewis, showed the year ending with a deficit of $243. Receipts for the year were $33,465 and expenditures $33,503. Mrs. J. W. Miller told of the activities of the religious work committee in planning vesper services, Bible study classes, and the like. The membership report, made by Mrs. J. R. Pogue, stated that there are over 1700 members in the association.

Educational classes provided by the association were described by Mrs. H. C. Schaub. Mrs. Ehrhart spoke for the Girls' work department, in which 500 girls are organized in the Girl Reserve work. Her report ended with the code and song of the Girl Reserves given by a group of the girls.

INDUSTRIAL DEPARTMENT

Mrs. T. J. Prentice reported for the industrial department, Mrs. C. Martin Wood for the Hospitality committee, and Mrs. Anderson for the cafeteria. The cafeteria showed a profit of $1,344.75 for the year, not as much as the year before but considered a good showing because of the many new eating places opened in the city. Fifty-eight thousand meals were served during the year.

Mrs. R. R. Montgomery reported for the summer camp last summer. Miss Alma Bassler told of the work of the Forum, Miss Erma Acton spoke for the Federation council, Miss Gertrude Mallory for the Noonday Lunch club, and Miss Rinnie Bean for the Young Woman's Bible club.

Several of the ministers of the city were guests at the banquet. Rev. R. E. Henry offered the invocation, and Rev. Harry L. Meyer gave a brief talk, congratulating the association on the work it is doing and assuring the co-operation of the ministers.

STILL COMMENTING ON D. H. S. EDITION

School Authorities Get Many Letters.

Many letters have been received by Superintendent Richeson and Principal Deam of the high school congratulating them on the high school number of The Decatur Review which was published Sunday, Jan. 26. Most of these letters are from school people, heads of various colleges of education, presidents of normal schools and city superintendents.

The thing which thoughtful school men most desire is that the public know what the schools are doing. School men who have written the Decatur school authorities agree that it was a previously unheard of thing for a newspaper to give up four full pages of a Sunday edition to what a given school is actually doing.

ONE OF THE LETTERS.

One of the happiest letters received, from the standpoint of the newspaper, is one from the field secretary of the Alumni Association of Teachers College, New York. It is as follows:

Supt. John J. Richeson,
Board of Education,
Decatur, Ill.

My Dear Superintendent Richeson:

The mail this morning brought me the Decatur High School number of The Decatur Review. It is certainly a splendid piece of publicity. As you know, for the past two years, I have had the fortune or misfortune of reading a good many hundred of newspapers with my eye out of educational interests and I must say that I have not yet found any newspaper which in a single issue has put up so much and such interesting school publicity, as is in the sheet which you sent me today.

As the superintendent of schools of Decatur, you are certainly to be congratulated upon getting the activities of the school system before the people in such a splendid manner. I would imagine that a citizen body informed of the schools as the citizens of Decatur will be, will not hesitate to raise the funds necessary to maintain such a system.

I am delighted to have gotten the piece of publicity which will be of value to me in my PH.D. thesis, which I hope to have finished this summer. If you have any other publicity in the paper, I will appreciate it very much if you would send it to me.

With best wishes, I am,
Very sincerely yours,
R. G. Reynolds,
Field Secretary,
Alumni Association.

RUSSIAN NEWSBOYS LOADED WITH CASH

Single Copy Costs 2,000 Rubles.

Stockholm, — Russian newsboys now, for the first time in years, selling daily papers in the streets of Moscow merely exchange a bundle of papers for an armful of rubles. Street sales of daily newspapers are now permitted in all Russian cities, according to Russian correspondents of Stockholm papers.

The Moscow Ivestia, formerly given free of cost by the Soviet government to Soviet officials was put on sale at 2,000 rubles a copy. A boy who sold 50 of them would be loaded down with 100,000 rubles in Bolshevist currency.

The first day's sale of a Moscow daily in that city amounted to 10,000 copies at 2,000 rubles per copy, or a total of 20,000,000 rubles, but on the second day the sales fell off, and in about a week, only some 6,000 copies of daily papers were being sold.

The monthly subscription price of daily newspapers in Moscow is 40,000 rubles, and 45,000 in the adjoining rural districts. Only billionaires in the modern Russian sense of the word can afford a daily paper, but of course, there are a good many billionaires in Russia these days.

POOREST KIND OF SHOWING.

When Wilson Bering was in Washington a short while since he found the politicians "working, not for the country, not for the national welfare, but to see how they can insure the party's success."

As this feeling was applied he found it amounting to this, getting down to cases: "Give the farmer what he wants, give the soldier what he wants, give everybody who has a vote what he wants."

Many observers at a distance must have remarked this tendency frequently in the past few weeks. And the worst of it is that it is only infrequently we find one who has the courage to stand up and declare against this "easy" policy.

It is strange that we don't hear from more people in protest. This sort of thing, carried along a little further, might prove the undoing of the system of government we have in this country, said to be the finest system so far devised in all the world. If everybody with a vote is to have all he asks it will be only a short time until everybody is asking, and by then we shall have gone to pot.

Legislators might be sane and reasonable, even do the best thing for the country, for the best chances are they would be supported in this action by the people back home. It isn't fair to these home folks to assume that bad policies must be taken on to placate them. Really they have sincere regard for the country, and in the end they take to the representative who has courage as well as sense.

RATIFY THE TREATIES.

In a special from Washington it is told that the fate of the arms conference treaties "admittedly hinges upon the position the thirty-six Democrats in the senate finally assume."

It is in order to remark that Democrats of the country are expecting these honorable senators to do their part by voting for the treaties. These measures have the support of plain folks in every part of this land, perhaps in every country in the world that is able to have a thought and wish on the subject.

The public of America would have gone further than did delegates in the conference, but these went far enough to give us something, a fair start in fact. Let us take what we can get at this time, and then perhaps we are in better shape to trust to the future to give us more.

It would be worse than a crime to destroy at the start this international movement toward general peace, and it would amount to destruction to have the United States hold back at this time.

Let us have support of the Democratic senators for these treaties. It would be a great help all around to have thirty-six votes from the Democratic side of the senate. It would be a much finer showing than was made by Republican brethren when the Versailles pact was up, but surely this country has a right to expect something better than it got at that time.

WHAT THEY CARE TO TELL.

Some stockholders in the Lincoln Oil company are said not to be inclined to tell all the favorable things they know about their well. One of them remarks there is no good reason why he should tell us all about this well, and he continues: "You don't know everything about the Millikin bank, and if you asked they wouldn't tell you."

We are not so sure about the aptness of this illustration. The bank folks publish a statement several times a year, and they get this out in folder form and are pleased to hand a copy to anybody interested. If you have some spare time you can call on O. B. Gorin to ask him for further particulars, and he will do his capable best to make the little session interesting. If he is holding back anything it is something we forgot to ask him about. In fact there are times when he and other bank men of the town volunteer to tell us several things to get us straightened out.

It is not saying we insist on knowing more about the oil well than they are willing to tell, for it does happen that with most of us our curiosity in that direction is commendably and properly restrained. We shall manage somehow to get along on what they are willing to tell us.

PUT IT IN THE RECORD.

We have been hearing something about people who live on West Wood street driving over to Main street to come down town. It is correct as far as it goes, but it isn't all the story.

Many people coming into town on West Main turn a short block south at Oakland avenue and then take Wood street east for two double blocks, using Pine street to get back to Main. Presumably they have been doing this because they wished to avoid the rough going on Main street from Oakland almost to Pine. There is a stretch of mighty poor paving in there, and no one would think of blaming folks for going out of the way to avoid it.

There is no feeling of conceit in calling attention to this; all that is meant is that sometimes folks on Wood street are glad to rush to the rescue. This wasn't mentioned at the hearing before the council this week, and so we hope it is not now too late to get it in the record.

NOT A GREAT TEMPPATION.

One gets an impression that Henry Ford is not tremendously anxious to buy the Muscle Shoals power plant. Tuesday his representative at Washington told a congressional committee that the offer could be accepted just as made, or it can be rejected without disappointing Mr. Ford.

We need not be surprised that Mr. Ford feels this way about it. If he should take on the venture he would be risking many millions of dollars. In the course of the operation he might lose or win millions. If he should lose it would be altogether his own loss; if he should win millions half would be taken away from him in federal taxation. He stands to lose all or to win half, the best he can expect. It isn't a combination that appeals strongly to a man in his senses; if the opportunity is denied him he can easily manage not to be greatly "disappointed."

THE SPECULATOR HELPED.

There is word from Chicago that several speculators on the board of trade in that town sold wheat they did not own, and now these speculators are falling over each other to buy wheat with which to make delivery. These fellows helped materially in the past few days in advancing the price of that cereal. They are in a corner where they feel they must buy, which just now means they must pay what they regard to be a stiff price.

The thing is mentioned here just as an illustration to show that even the speculator may cause grain prices to advance, and to his own loss. He doesn't plan to do a thing like this, but nevertheless he has it to do. He may be looked on with more favor when he is causing prices to advance, the point being that he is not always regarded as a general nuisance.

MAC'S SYSTEM NOT BAD.

Somebody drops in to remark that keeping in condition is hardly worth all the time and hard work that John McAllister devotes to it. He is right at 69 years and has booked himself to do a walking sprint that is beyond all but a few men who are thirty years younger.

On the whole we think that Mr. McAllister can justify himself and his labors. It is true he does a lot of work to keep in shape, but it may be he enjoys all of it. There are men who at 69 coddle and dope to keep going in unsatisfactory fashion; some of them give as much time to this treatment as does McAllister to his.

Most of us can't be sure about it, but we suspect that taking a daily brisk walk must be about as cheerful as haunting the doctors and the drugstores. And Mr. McAllister gets results.

WILL TRIM THE NAME.

We now understand the official name of the highway to be: "Pike's Peak-Ocean to Ocean Highway, the Pershing Transport Route."

As Sir Harry used to tell us in his song, "If you can say that you are sober." And if you can say it too distinctly and glibly he might accuse you of being a teetotaler.

It is a long string of bumpety name, but of course one does not have to be able to recite it in order to use the highway; this is fortunate.

Of course the public will find another name for the road, something of one or two syllables. It is a way the public has, acting in its own defense. Irreverence is not intended, but most of us must have a name that is not as long as a banquet speech. We might stand for something like Black Jack Road.

They are hanging out the S. R. O. sign in Illinois penitentiaries, so don't imagine you will be comfortable after breaking in.

How does it happen that E. B. Bentley of Clinton is so enthusiastically blossoming forth as an orator all at once?

The counties are ordering more road oil than ever before, so they must feel they get their money's worth.

Seventeen years ago at this time the mercury was around 25 below zero, and yet some insist the world isn't getting better.

If we wanted to discourage the jazz dance we would hesitate before telling that it has the same effect as alcohol.

We don't know of anybody who is inclined to grow enthusiastic about the kind of warfare that plays up sniping as the big feature.

In the country are twice as many coal mines as needed, but Shelbyville feels sure it can use one more.

Another thing you can be sure of is that the ad writers are doing the best that is in them right now.

"Coin" Harvey Bobs Up With New Political Slogan

"Blood Clot On Brain of Body Politic" Startles Capital Politicians—Ford's Paper Follows With Cheap Gold Cry.

By Mark Sullivan.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 15—On a recent day in this town there were two signs of the times. In the morning at our homes, a good many of us received through the mails a pamphlet whose vivid cover shrieked out the subject, "common sense or the clot on the brain of the body politic," by the author of "Coin's Financial School" and then, a few hours later, as we moved about the streets, we found the newsboys selling a copy of Henry Ford's weekly paper, the Dearborn Independent, the cover of which besought you to read "Cheap Gold, the money mystery."

RECALLS OLD DAYS.

Mr. Ford and his ideas are recent and familiar, but who now remembers the author and propaganda of the other pamphlet? To those whose memories are long enough it recalls the early Bryan days, when heaven only knows how many copies of "Coin's Financial School" flooded the farms and the question—and—answer form in which its catechism on money was phrased provided the substance for thousands of debates in country school houses and millions of oracular declamations from the cracker barrels of cross road stores.

Looked at from this distance, it has the glamour of romance, the echo of vivid and stirring days. Probably most of us had thought that the man who was christened William H. Harvey, but came to be called "Coin" Harvey, had gone the way of "Sockless Jerry" Simpson, Mary Ellen Lease, Carrie Nation, the bewhiskered Poffer, and all those others whose obsessions contributed the picturesque drama of the days news to those peaceful days in the 90's before even that bush-league war we had with Spain was dreamed of. And now "Coin" Harvey turns up still in the flesh, living at Monte Ne, Benton County, Ark; and once more some crusading instinct tells him that again the times are ripe for him.

WHAT DOES IT MEAN.

I don't know what it portends; and a good many of the persons who know most within the field of fiscal theories, coinage and the like laughed at the suggestion that it means anything. When we first went into the war, and began the fiscal operations attending it, plenty of persons expected that we were in for thorough going inflation all the way up to the dizzy top, and that, in the reaction, we should have to face all the chaos that attends such a course and the heresies that arise out of the comeback. But we didn't let our inflation go on to the wilder heights. We began to check it in the summer of 1920 and every body thought we were saved from the consequences of a monetary jamboree.

ANOTHER "16 TO 1" BATTLE COMING?

Who could have foretold that an administration in power with an election facing it in a few months would have had the courage to begin deflation with all its pains and unpopularity. This and other aspects of the management of our post-war finance on the part of President Wilson and Secretaries Glass and Houston constituted one of the finest examples of intellectual integrity and political courage in our history. It is chiefly this we shall have to thank if we get through without a serious contest with financial heresies.

Most persons think we will escape; but who can be sure that what is going on in several of the countries of Europe will leave us completely immune? There is no likelihood of its affecting our governmental or business practices, but can we be sure it will not infect the minds of the dreamers, the enthusiasts and the fanatics? Can we be sure we will not have a political campaign with something like the battle of "16 to 1" fought over again?

WHO CAN TELL?

There is no denying the alluring, seductive quality of monetary heresies to mind untrained in clear thinking or otherwise touched with inexactness. Probably the answer lies where most answers lie in the question of whether a leader shall appear. If any one should turn up with the picturesque and magnetic personality that Bryan had it those early days, and with an ambition to be president of the United States we might well have '96 and some variation of "Sixteen to one" all over again.

Henry Ford is a very different personality from William Jennings Bryan, and yet, he has the same characteristics of being led on by instinct and dominated by inspiration from within himself.

FORD CATCHES THEM.

Furthermore, while he has none of that richly flowing magnetism that made Bryan so fascinating to multitudes of people, there is, never-theless, no denying that nearly everything he does from day to day catches the imagination of thousands who come to think of him as a man who makes automobiles cheaper than anybody else, who raised his wages when others are reducing them, who buys a broken-down railroad and makes it go when others have failed, who provides the extraordinary and unprecedented spectacle of the interstate commerce commission refusing his application to reduce freight rates, an application made at a time when other roads are striving to maintain their rates against public clamor for reduction, who promises the farmer cheaper fertilizer than he ever had before, and whose every action in the public view manages to convey the esoteric hint that he is the superman, who, if he but had the power could manage the world as he manages the Ford factory and bring about the economic millennium of lower prices for the product and bigger wages for the worker.

Ten Years Ago Today In Decatur

FEBRUARY 15, 1912.

A. Sigfried, manager of the Bijou theater, had a Chicago motion picture man here taking moving pictures on Decatur streets.

Petitions for annexing seven additions to the city were being circulated to be voted on at the approaching election. They would add 2000 to the city's population. Some of these were, High Lawns, part of Oakdale, part of Riverside, Homestead Place, L. Towle's addition and Pleasant View.

The East Park Baptist church voted to build a $10,000 brick church right away.

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY.

An ice harvest sufficient for two seasons was gathered.

Mrs. John A. Barnes of Germany, former Decatur woman, was the guest of Mrs. I. A. Buckingham.

A trainload of insane people passed through Decatur on the way from Anna to Cartonville.

About Town

"HOW bad are food conditions in Austria?" replied I. W. Preger of Holland to a question which was asked of him as he sat in the Orlando hotel Sunday evening.

"I'll tell you about the Christmas dinner that I had last Christmas day with an Austrian Baroness. The dinner was not so very, very bad itself although the black bread of war was still served but what impressed me was the Christmas tree which was standing in the room at the time. The gifts were still on and about the three and what do you suppose those gifts were, in this home of the Austrian aristocracy—canned soup, canned milk, canned meat, canned preserves—all food and all of that kind.

"The position of the educated and educating classes in Austria is simply indescribable. For instance while I was in Vienna the helpers to the shoe makers, the cobblers' assistants, struck for an advance in wages from one and a half million kroner a year or two million kroner.

The salaries of university professors there I found to be 720,000 kroner a year, a third of what the helpers to the cobblers in the shoe shops were asking, less than half what these helpers were already receiving. The Austrian kroner is so depreciated that it now takes a thousand to equal the value of one at normal value.

Mr. Preger thinks that Austria will now begin to recover because of commercial treaties which have been made with Jugo-Slavia and Jugo-Slovia whereby Vienna will recover some of its old time trading business.

"WELL, dad, I think I'm a pretty good walker," said the son of one of Decatur's best known business men last Friday while he and his chum were talking with the aforesaid dad.

"Huh," replied the father with a good natured gesture of scepticism, "You don't know what real walking is."

"I'll tell you what I will do," he continued as he knew that his youngster was rather acquisitive when it comes to money.

"I'll just give you and your chum each twenty-five cents a mile if you will walk to Springfield."

"Zat so?" inquired the lad. "Suppose we say half way there and back so as to save that return car fare," said "Bob" with a thriftiness which would e'en please that canny Scot, Sir Harry Lauder.

"That's all right," replied the dad, who immediately forgot all about the matter and did not think any more about it until Saturday morning when on going to his son's room he found the bed empty.

At 11 o'clock that morning the undertaker at Illiopolis called up the Decatur man to say that the boys had reached his place, mighty tired and as hungry as wolves. The boys were bound that they should have outside support on their contention that they had made the trip.

That night, just before dark, Bob dragging one foot after the other reached his home. He took a hot bath expecting then to have his supper but he was literally too tired to eat and crawled into bed.

But the dad had to sign two checcks, each for nine dollars, twenty-five cents a mile for thirty-six miles.

BEMENT.

A large audience saw the play "Miss Fearless & Co." given Monday evening by the grade school teachers in the high school auditorium. The receipts were $93.

Mrs. W. N. Vance of Chicago Heights came Saturday for a short visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Camp.

J. T. Moore returned to Oakland Tuesday after a few days' visit at his home here.

UNUSUAL STORIES ABOUT UNUSUAL PEOPLE

Then he relented and she attended her first show. Now she says she doesn't care to go again!

Miss Van Dyke doesn't read novels either.

WINTER.

It seems so dead out there today,
The snow lies deep about the place;
The ground whereon the children play
Has lost its touch of charm and grace.

What was a garden, now is bare,
The rose stalks flutter to and fro,
There is no hint that life is there
Beneath the drifted ice and snow.

The sparrows twitter in the tree,
But otherwise no sound is heard,
Where used to ring the minstrelsy
Of many a golden-throated bird.

I gaze across this barren waste
Of beauty held in winter's clutch,
I note the lines of sorrow traced
By desolation's cruel touch.

"Suppose" unto myself, I say,
"This garden bleak and cold and bare,
Were doomed forever thus to stay
And never rose should blossom there?"

But all this ugliness must pass
And ice and snow must vanish soon;
Spring shall awake the slumbering grass,
The roses shall return in June.

So with this faith through life I'd go,
Meeting my care as winter's sting,
Knowing that all the ice and snow
Must vanish with the birth of spring.

RHEUMATISM

BY DR. R. H. BISHOP.

There is no medicinal cure for rheumatism, but certain remedies and measures wisely applied and carefully followed will provide relief.

Often people who have what they call touches of rheumatism do not have the disease at all. It may be merely strain induced by faulty habits of posture in standing, walking or sitting or from weak feet. In such cases, adoption of a correct posture, living a hygienic life will usually cure this so-called rheumatism.

But the true rheumatism is a pus infection. It is evident from increased temperature and swollen joints. The muscular pains which it produces in its victims is very similar to those induced by muscular strain, but it requires vastly different treatment.

The trouble in rheumatism often arises from bacteria clogging the small blood vessels in the joint with the result that nutrition is impaired. The bacterial poison actually attacks the tissues, heat centers and central nervous system, thus causing fever.

It usually comes from an infection in the head, tonsils, tooth sockets or elsewhere. Some cases, however, may be due to the absorption of bacteria from the intestines.

The disease is greatly favored by cold and damp weather or such influences as lower the resistance of the body to the infection.

The best cure for rheumatism is to get the germs out of the body. Find the seat of the infection, whether it lies in the tonsils, teeth or middle ear or other center, at the same time keeping the body in the highest possible resistant condition.

An observance of simply hygiene and avoidance of cold or damp places and sudden changes of temperature will serve to keep the body resistant. The bowels must be kept open not through purgatives but through proper diet.

A THOUGHT For TODAY

Say not thou, I will hide myself from the Lord; shall any remember me from above? I shall not be remembered among so many people; for what is my soul among such an infinite number of creatures?—Ecclesiasticus 16:17.

Among so many can He care?
Can special love be everywhere?
A myriad homes, a myriad ways,
And God's eye over every place?

I asked my soul bethought of this;
In just that very place of His
Where He hath put and keepeth you,
God hath no other thing to do!

SORES OF 40 YEARS' DURATION YIELD TO WONDERFUL TONIC

Remarkable Experience of Mr. Geo. W. Condo, of Moccasin, Ill., Demonstrates the Merit of Natski Blood Purifier and Tonic.

George W. Condo, a prominent citizen of Moccasin, Ill., suffered for over 40 years with running sores on his limb. Space will not permit of the entire letter, but a copy will be mailed to any one on request. He says:

"In November and December, 1876, I had typhoid fever, which left me with a swollen limb and which later broke into running sores. This condition continued until January, 1920, only in a much worse form. I doctored with many physicians in St. Louis, Indianapolis and surrounding cities. * * *

"In the 43 years I have doctored for my limb and ankle, I have spent great sums of money. Last winter about December, 1919, I saw an advertisement of Natski Blood Purifier in the paper, and read it over and made up my mind I would try it. A little later I went to Altamont and asked Mr. Weiler, my druggist, what kind of Blood medicine he had. He named a number of different kinds until he said, among others, Natski Blood Purifier, and I told him that was the name of the medicine I wanted to try. He said it was highly recommended as a blood remedy, and I took home six bottles. After taking four bottles I was relieved from pain and my leg commenced to heal, and kept on until it was completely healed up. No other medicine that I had ever taken in all the years I had suffered, had even caused my soreness to stop. I took ten bottles of Natski Blood Purifier, before my limb was entirely healed, which was about March 1, 1920, and I have had no recurrence or breaking out of my limbs since that time.

I can now do work that I could not do for the 43 years that I have suffered with the condition of my limb, that I mentioned, I can now plow, harness teams, cultivate and can even ride horse-back, which I could not do in all the years when my limb was so bad, and I have worked all summer on the farm, something I had not done for years. I can now go out in company without the feeling that I am not wanted, and I am just as happy as anybody. I am so delighted with the results and the effect of Natski Blood Purifier that I want everybody else who may be suffering as I did with similar conditions, to know of it so that they may get relief from their suffering as I did.

"GEORGE W. CONDO."

RUG MARKET DUE TO REACT

Salesman Says Scovill Rug Prices Are Lowest in the Country.

"Considering the quality you have the best prices on rugs here that I have seen any place in my entire rounds," said a rug salesman to Mr Norman, the rug man at Scovill's Wednesday morning. "That covers some territory too for I make all the principal cities in the Central West as well as some in the Eastern section.

MAKING HOME FURNISHERS

"I am glad to hear you say that," said Mr Norman, "for we have tried our best to get prices down where Decatur folks think they can buy. In doing that we are trying to aid those who are just starting to furnish their homes as well as those who need new rugs and are merely waiting for prices to drop further."

WATCH MARKET CLOSELY

"Needn't worry about prices going down," the salesman informed him. "On the other hand it looks like they would go up. Rugs had the same as ... on the market that corn did. They took a mighty tumble but they'll rebound in price somewhat. That is what ... is doing so you'd better watch the rug market pretty closely."

Society Women, in Melody Studio, Turn Out Music and Verse

(Left to Right) Mrs Charles Hopper, Madame Caruso and Mrs J Bolger, in their studio in New York. (Inset) Mrs Charles Hopper, at the piano.

BY RUTH ABELING.

New York—Three daughters of three attorneys with three apartments adjoining all sharing the cleverest studio ever.

The three women who thus work together are Mrs Charles Hopper, Mrs Jimmie Bolger and Mrs Enrico Caruso, all recognized in New York's social world.

Mrs Hopper is the widow of Charles Hopper wealthy actor and the original "Jimmie McFadden." Madame Caruso is the widow of Enrico Caruso famous tenor. Mrs Bolger's husband is a New York financier.

And out of the trio a genius in musical composition is developing—Mrs Charles Hopper. Mrs Hopper has two songs which have just been published, "You Are Like a Violin" and "Some Folks' Religion."

The latter has been put in "Shuffle Along," a popular New York musical show. At present she is working on an operetta at the request of a theatrical producer. She writes both the music and the lyrics.

Nine thirty every morning finds the three women settled in the studio back of their apartments each at her own particular work. Mrs Bolger writes verse and short stories. Madame Caruso has written lyrics for several published songs. One is "Gloria's Lullaby" and the other is "Little Brown Owl."

"But we're both more interested in Mrs Hopper's work than we are in our own," says Madame Caruso. "She has the real gift which we want to develop."

You Are Like a Violin

By Mrs Charles Hopper

Dear, there's a melody singing in my heart
Dear, a wonderful sweet refrain
Though I change the key,
It's the same melody
That re-echoes in my brain
Sometimes it's gay and some times sad
Sometimes it's very blue
But it's always just the same old theme—
You, you, you.

CHORUS

For you're just like a violin
When the orchestra begins to play
For when that violin begins
It steals my heart away,
Amidst the sound of kettle
 drums
I hear one melody
That seems to haunt my very soul
That's the way that you appeal to me.

FIRE SMOLDERING IN LIVERY BARN

As is usually the case when fires get started in anything baled or closely packed such as hay or grain the firemen are frequently called back to the Bowman barn at 4... Several trips had to be made Monday and Tuesday to put more water on and this may continue until all the debris is moved away.

The firemen was called to the residence of Mrs Russell 1075 West Howard street at 1:40 Tuesday afternoon to extinguish a small roof blaze.

A fire under a kettle in the Gen... dry meat market 904 North Jasper, set fire to the floor of the building and caused a run for the firemen at 7:15 Tuesday evening and again at 8 o'clock.

SCIENCE STUDENTS SEE X-RAY WORK

Pictures Made and Developed by Experts.

One of the most successful evenings which has marked the activities of Gamma Epsilon Tau, the scientific fraternity at Millikin university was the demonstration of X ray work for the members of the fraternity and a number of friends at the Decatur X Ray Laboratory in the Standard Life building Tuesday night when Dr Homer Ellis, X Ray specialist lectured on his work and gave demonstrations with the machines in use in the laboratory.

X Ray pictures were made of a hand, an ankle, an elbow and a tooth while the party was in the laboratory and the plates finished so that the students and their friends could see the shadow pictures.

Inspection of the Illinois Bell Telephone switchboard and the handling of the telephone connections, a visit to one of the coal mines and a study of the making of ice at the plant of the Polar Co are other activities already arranged for by the fraternity.

NEW FIRE ENGINE HERE IN 90 DAYS

Council Accepts $1480 for Old Steamer.

After considering all the bids made by the four companies submitting propositions for a motorized fire engine for the Decatur fire department, the members of the council, acting as a committee of the whole decided Tuesday to recommend to the council itself the acceptance of the bid of the Ahrens Fox Co for $11,000 after the $1,480 allowance for the old steamer is figured in on the price.

The new machine, which is a complete fire fighting unit with a chemical tank, hose and a pumping engine of 750 gallons per minute will be delivered to the city in about ninety days. By that time the funds from the new fiscal year will be available and the engine can be paid for in cash thereby securing a further credit on the price of four per cent.

A proposition made by Ralph Tenney to assemble a machine which he claimed would be of equal merit at a lower price was not considered as the bids made had been offered after the had been twice advertised and everyone had had an opportunity to make propositions to the city.

"DANDERINE"

Grows Thick, Heavy Hair

35-cent Bottle Ends all Dandruff, Stops Hair Coming Out

Ten minutes after using Danderine you can not find a single trace of dandruff or falling hair and your scalp will not itch, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair, fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair—growing all over the scalp. Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them, helping the hair to grow long, strong and luxuriant One application of Danderine makes thin, lifeless, colorless hair look youthfully bright, lustrous, and just twice as abundant.

NO WONDER THE CAT CAME BACK!

"You bet your nine lives I'm going home," said Kitty. "Might as well start now—I'm advertised for in the Review.

"It used to be that a cat could run away once in a while, but not a chance any more. No more night life for me. I guess It's Home, Sweet Home for little Katherine!"

Katherine's owner, who lives at 790 East Whitmer Street, advertised for her in the Lost columns of the Review and the next morning she found the kitten, who had evidently returned of her own accord.

One of Katherine's feline friends must have read the Review on some doorstep in the early morning and tipped her off to the ad.

Anyhow, Katherine says it's hard to stay lost after the case has been reported to Main 551.

Sausage Dishes

BY SISTER MARY.

Everybody loves sausage and if it is used not too frequently and with the proper accompaniments it is really a wholesome winter food. The amount of fat in other foods must be decreased, letting the sausage provide most of the fat required in a balanced diet. Acids and minerals together with a bulky food should be included in any meal of which sausage forms a part.

SAUSAGE ROLLS.

Four small sausages, 1½ cups flour, 1 tablespoon lard, ½ teaspoon salt, milk to make a soft dough, 3 teaspoons baking powder.

Remove skin from sausages. Mix and sift flour, salt and baking powder. Rub in lard with tips of fingers. Cut in with milk with a knife. Roll on a well floured board to about one quarter inch thickness. Cut in oblong shaped pieces large enough to completely cover each sausage. Roll and prick the top of each roll with a fork. Bake 45 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve with stewed tomatoes.

LEFTOVER SAUSAGE WITH MASHED POTATOES.

One cup leftover cooked sausage, cup canned tomatoes, 3 cups mashed potato, 1 egg, salt and pepper.

Heat tomatoes and add sausage. Cook until thick If the potatoes are leftover seasoned potatoes, beat with just enough hot milk to make light Beat in egg well beaten. Line a baking dish with potato, leaving enough to cover the top Fill dish with sausage mixture, cover with potato and bake 30 minutes in a hot oven.

APPLES BAKED WITH SAUSAGE.

Four apples, ½ pound bulk sausage, whole cloves.

Wash apples and remove core. Stick a few cloves into the flesh of the apple in the cavity. Fill cavity with sausage Bake in a slow over until apples are tender and sausage well cooked. These are quite an addition to baked spare ribs.

SAUSAGES WITH POTATO CAKES

Put sausage in a deep frying pan and pour over boiling water to half cover. Let simmer gently 6 minutes Pour off water. Prick well with a steel fork and put in a moderate oven. Cook covered for 15 minutes

Season hot or cold mashed potatoes with salt and pepper, add enough hot milk to make moist and beat until very light. Form in flat cakes, roll in flour and add to sausage in frying pan. Fry in fat from sausage, first on one side and then on the other. A crisp brown crust should cover each side of the potato cakes. Serve on a platter with sausage in the center and cakes surrounding. Garnish with slices of lemon and sprigs of parsley.

If you would make your own sausage try this rule. The sausage is highly seasoned:

Two pounds fat pork, 3½ pounds lean pork, 1 tablespoon black pepper, 2 tablespoons salt, 2 teaspoons sage (optional).

Have meat ground at butchers If sage is used rub the dried leaves between the hands till like powder. Put all ingredients in a large bowl and mix thoroughly with the hands. It requires at least 15 minutes of mixing to have the sausage perfectly blended. To cook shape in flat cakes.

W. R. C. AND G. A. R. ENJOY FROLIC

"Susan's Band" Plays on Kitchen Instruments.

The members of the W. R. C. and the G A. R. participated in another of their gay frolics Tuesday evening in the G. A. R. hall .The feature of the evening was the concert given by "Susan's band" whose members were dressed in all colors of the rainbow, and the musical instruments were mainly a collection from the kitchen. Mrs. Inez Bender leader of the band, was gayly decorated with many badges, and medals, and wore a drum major's hat beautifully decorated in red feathers. The work of the band brought forth much applause.

A poetical contest was held, the contestants being five "young girls", Mrs. Julia Bugh, Mrs. Nettie Slifer, Mrs. Nancy Young, Mrs. Edna Saxton, and Mrs. Mattie Dientsbier. Each one recited "Mary Had A Little Lamb" and they were all so fine that the judges were unable to decide upon the winner, and numbers were drawn for the prize. Mrs. Hugh drew the lucky number. The prize was a bottle of face lotion.

OTHER NUMBERS.

Other numbers on the program were a piano duet by Mrs. Hattie Reynolds, and Mrs W. N. Wood, a violin solo by Miss Stella Loughlin, and two readings, "Decatur's New Lake" and "The Impounding Dam" original poems by Mr. Tinkey.

Following the grand march the program closed by singing America. A social hour was held, and coffee and doughnuts were served.

The members attended the exhibit of Harding War pictures at the Art Institute Wednesday afternoon.

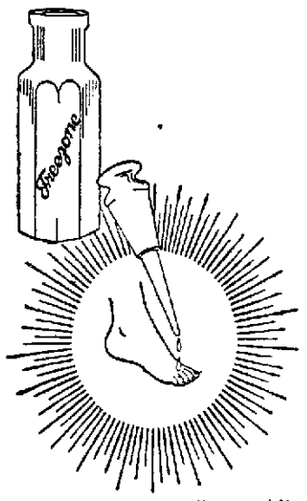

Spare Time Jobs for Father

Often there is a spot in the carpet just below the steam cock in the radiator. This comes from the outlet leaking and dropping water down on the floor.

Avoid this by taking an ordinary baking powder can, putting a wire handle on it, and hanging it over the steam cock. This will catch dripping water. To make it look best tint the can the same color as the radiator.

Millikin-Wesleyan in Annual Game Tonight

Old Rivals to Clash Before Capacity Crowd at J. M. U. —Methodist Rooters Coming.

THE LINEUPS.

MILLIKIN.	POS.	WESLEYAN.
Seago	F	Haussler (C)
Arrington	F	Mace
Hiser	C	Gottschalk
Bailey (C)	G	Finke
Berry	G	Macey

Referee—Kearns (DePaul).
Umpire—Reynolds (Y. College).

Having been told for the past few days that they will have to fight from start to finish in order to prevent Illinois Wesleyan from putting over their first victory on the J. M. U. floor in years, the blue and white team is ready for the struggle with their old rivals here tonight.

Despite the fact the Wannmen will not be able to put out the same five men that gave Wabash and Illinois U. such hard fights, their supporters are confident that the locals will emerge from the scrap with the Wesleyan scalp on their belts.

They point to the fact the Methodists were defeated at Bloomington and that the old J. M. U. fight will carry the Wannmen through in their last appearance on the home floor this season.

COME ON SPECIAL.

More than 100 Wesleyan rooters will make the trip for the game in a special train over the I. T. S. The Bloomington and Wesleyan fans are expecting to enjoy their first big treat at the expense of Millikin since that 21 to 3 football defeat back in 1915. That was the last Wesleyan victory in a major sport in Decatur, although the Methodist baseball nine has won here.

Coach Wimberley has a fine looking basketball squad this season and it is made up of men who have had considerable experience at the cage game. All of the players were high school stars before taking up their college work and should be able to show a strong offense and defense.

CHANGES LINEUP.

Coach Wann announced Wednesday morning that in all probability Hiser would jump center with Seago and Arrington at the forwards. This combination leaves Walley out, although its an almost safe bet, that when the five who are to start the game trot out on the floor, he will be included.

A capacity crowd is assured for the contest according to advance sale of tickets and with the game scheduled to start at 8 o'clock, every one is asked to be in their seats at that time.

Nick Kearns considered by many the best young official in the Western Conference will referee the game while Herbert Reynolds, the daddy of them all, will have his eagle eye on the job from the umpire's post.

BOBBY COLTRIN IS NOT ON BLOCK

Hope to Sign Him—Bloomers Hot After Woodworth.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 15.—Shortstop Bobby Coltrin is not on the market. That was the announcement made Tuesday by President Charles Goelzer of the Fans Association in reply to a query as to whether or not there was a deal on to trade the peerless shortstop to Peoria.

Goelzer says that Coltrin is altogether too valuable a man to lose and that because of his business interests he undoubtedly prefers to play in Bloomington to any other city in this loop and that he feels certain that terms can be arranged for 1922.

It is further known that Manager Sykes and Coltrin are the best of friends and there is no reason to believe that the great little infielder will not be back at his old post when the gong rings next April.

MAY GET WOODWORTH.

That the Bloomington club may land "Buster" Woodworth, star second baseman of the Staleys for two seasons, is the report that comes out of Decatur.

Woodworth it seems is anxious to play in this city and has refused an offer from the temporary Fans Association in the Macon county seat, believing that he has been there long enough for his own good.

Manager Sykes could not be reached this morning to either confirm or deny the report.

SIGN PEORIA BOY.

The Peoria Star of Tuesday evening has the following to say of Rudy Rauschkolb, Peoria youth, just signed by Manager Sykes:

"Through a recommendation by 'Scully' Jones Three-Eye League umpire, 'Rudy' Rauschkolb Peoria semi-pro catcher, will receive a tryout with the Bloomington baseball club this spring. Rauschkolb played in the Commercial League loop last summer, and his work was so conspicuous that Jones, who is president of the league, recommended him favorably when the Bloomer manager applied to him for a likely recruit for the backstop job. Rauschkolb wished to get away from the 'home town' for his initial tryout. Two stars now with professional league clubs have gone from the Commercial loop. They are Alvie Sellers, pitcher for the Wichita, Kan. Western League club, and George Berger, pitcher for the Joplin club until last week when he was sold to Seattle for $2 500."

HUME PROVES EASY FOR NEWMAN TEAM

Put Over 32 to 9 Victory in the Second Meeting Tuesday.

Newman, Feb. 15.—Newman defeated Hume for the second time this season when the local team scored a 32 to 9 victory here Tuesday night. Although stiff and weary from their five games in the county tournament last week in which they tied with Villa Grove for the championship the Newman five put up a fast offense which seemed to bewilder the Hume team.

Newman's scoring combination rang up twenty points in the first half holding Hume to two free throws. During the last quarter Coach Giffens gave seven of his second string men a chance to show their wares. Hance led the scoring for Newman with seven field goals while Pinnell made all of Hume's points with three field goals and three free throws. Turner played a great defensive game for the victors.

The summaries.

Newman — Hance, Bender, Sellers forwards, Vance, Choat, center, White Turner, McCue, Ellington guards.

Hume—T. Barrett, Strob forwards; Pinnell center, Henderson J. Barrett, guards.

Field goals—Hance, 7; Bender, 3 White, 3 Pinnell, 3.

Free throws—White, 6 Pinnell, 3.

Referee—Dunscomb (California)

Volleyball

The Polecats increased their winning percentage considerably Tuesday night in the Barnyard Volley Ball League by taking three straight games from the Ganders, 15-13, 15-10, 15-13. The defeats caused the Ganders to hit the cellar with a thud. Kyle's Gobblers won two out of three games from the Mules, 8-15, 15-9 15-13.

D. H. S. QUINTET TO ATTEND BIG BATTLE

Coach Muir, Manager Westlund and ten members of the Decatur high school basketball team will attend the Millikin-Wesleyan basketball game in a body this evening.

With Bowman, Walley and Arrington wearing the blue and white this season, the local preps will not feel that they are among strangers.

Millikin has always been fortunate in securing a large percentage of the D. H. S. athletes each year and already a number of the red and white men are looking toward the blue and white school as their choice.

Beloit, Wis., Feb. 15—The Beloit college track schedule as revised by the faculty athletic committee, was announced Tuesday morning by Coach E. J. Osgood. That Illinois and Drake relays were included originally, but were struck out by the faculty. The schedule:

May 13—Quadrangular meet, to be arranged.

May 20—Carleton dual meet at Northfield.

May 27—Wisconsin state meet at Ripon.

Ann Arbor, Mich., Feb. 15—William T. Van Orden, veteran football and track man, was declared ineligible Tuesday for scholastic deficiency in the midyear examinations. Van Orden had registered forty-four feet with the shot and was considered a sure winner in dual meets.

So far as was known to Coach Steve Farrell, the status of no other track men was in question.

Vermillion, S. D., Feb. 15—John W. Stewart, athletic director at the University of South Dakota, has resigned. He did not announce the reason. Stewart has been director of athletics four years, after coming from Sioux City High school.

Berkeley, Cal., Feb. 15—University of California's proposed track meet with the University of Illinois will not materalize, it is announced the Illini declining the invitation because of a meet scheduled with Texas in April, the date the Californians hoped to bring them west.

Beloit Wis., Feb. 15—Beloit college won the midwest little conference title Monday night, beating Carleton, 21 to 14. It was the first defeat for Carleton in two years.

Schaefer Leads.

San Francisco, Feb. 15—Jake Schaefer, world champion, won two games from Roger Conti, 182 billiard champion of Europe, in a tournament play Tuesday. Schaefer won the first game, 300 to 196, in seven innings and the night contest, 300 to 6, in three innings.

The tournament, which ends tonight, now stands three games to one in favor of Schaefer.

Bradley Wins.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 15.—Coach Robertson's Bradley quintet continued to show their heels to I. I. A. C. teams here Tuesday night when the Hilltoppers won from St. Viator, 24 to 15. Three Peoria boys were with the St Viator five while Howard Bushnell, their coach, is also a Peorian. The defeat was quite a surprise for St. Viator followers.

What Can Be Done

While Peoria, Bloomington, Moline and other cities that operate under the Fans' Association plan of ownership have never declared any dividends on their stock and it is not being sold for the Decatur Fans' Association with that idea in mind, the following letter received unsolicited will give you fans an idea of what Evansville has done in the way of interest in baseball.

HERE IT IS:

Evansville, Ind.,
Feb. 13, 1922.

Fans' Association,
Decatur, Ill.,

Gentlemen:--

We notice by the daily papers that you are starting a Fans' Association, and thought possibly we could give you some data that will help the sale of your stock. In view of this, we wish to state that in the spring of 1919 we organized, selling $7,500 worth of stock. In 1921 we declared a 50 per cent dividend payable in general admission tickets and at the present we have $21,000 in our treasury.

We feel confident that when we have our annual meeting in March that our stock holders will get most of their money back that they have invested and we also feel confident that with the right kind of management your association will be just as profitable.

Yours very truly,

EVANSVILLE BASEBALL
FANS' ASSOCIATION,

Wm. J. Asplan, Pres.

WANT MILLIKIN TO DEDICATE NEW GYM

Lincoln, Ill., Feb. 15—Lincoln college athletic authorities are considering booking James Millikin university or another equally strong basketball five for the house warming game in the new Lincoln college gymnasium late in March.

Although work on the building will not be completed until late spring, the big gym is now enclosed and will be ready for play in a month. It will be formally dedicated at the close of the Lincoln five's tour of Cook county. The strong Carthage college five plays here Thursday night of this week. Carthage defeated Lincoln at Carthage, 18 to 15, several weeks ago.

BRADLEY TO HAVE STIFF GRID CHART

Peoria Eleven Will Play Eleven Contests.

Peoria, Ill., Feb. 15.—Two new gridiron faces will appear in opposition to Bradley's grid eleven next fall according to the schedule announced by Coach Robertson Monday night. Lake Forrest college and St. Viator are the fresh names added to the list. Ten games will be played by the Hilltoppers making the chart the biggest under-taking by Bradley in history.

MANY AT HOME.

Seven of the ten games are to be played on the local lot thus assuring the local football followers of another great program of football shows similar to the ones shown at the Tech campus last fall. Robertson's men will open the season against Lincoln college usually an easy eleven, but in their second combat of the season the Tech will meet Lombard college, its conqueror last year.

LOOK TO WESLEYAN.

Local fans will have another opportunity of seeing "Frenchie" Haussler and Johnnie Zinser, two Peoria boys, in action when the Illinois Wesleyan five comes to Peoria on November 4. Another great attraction will be the Eureka game to be played on Thanksgiving day as the curtain lowering game.

Bradley's three foes on the road will be Lombard, Augustana and Illinois college.

October 7—Lombard at Galesburg
October 14—St. Viator at Peoria

S. S. Basketball.

The First Presbyterian outfit scored a 21 to 11 victory over the Grace Methodist basketball five Tuesday night at the Y. M. C. A. in the Sunday School Basketball league. The Presbyterians gained a nine-point lead in the first period and increased it a single point in the last half.

BOWLING

By taking two out of three from the Circulators Tuesday night the Ludlows went into a tie with that team for the leadership of the Review League. The P. & S. five took the Advertisers down a short ways by also grabbing two out of the three contests.

In the Ludlow-Circulator game Carl Hoots featured with a high game of 220 and an average of 201 for the evening. It was in the game that he toppled over 220 pins that the Circulators won. Logan did the best work for the Circulators with 167 average.

Jack Rubottom was the big noise in the other match with a 190 high game and 172 average. Williams was the P. & S. ace with a 169 average.

SPRINGFIELD IN ATHENS VICTORY

Decatur's Next Foe Shows High Class Ball.

Springfield, Ill., Feb 15—The fast Athens basketball team, which swept everything before it in the five-county tourney last week, went down to defeat before the Red and Black five in a speedy battle Tuesday night by a 26 to 14 score.

The Springfield crew put up the greatest exhibition of basketball that it has shown this year, and by some consistent playing overcame the one point lead which its rivals held at the end of the initial quarter.

DEFENSE HELPS.

Athens also played a great game, and only the superb defense of Coach Baird's machine kept them from running up a tough score. They were somewhat handicapped by the absence of Shears, their center who was able to play only a part of the game because of a badly sprained ankle.

SECOND MEETING.

This was the second game of the season for the two teams and the locals took advantage of their opportunity to get revenge for the defeat which they suffered at Athens. The entire Red and Black team played consistently and this is the reason why they were able to pass the ball around their speedy opponents, who seemed to be bewildered with the style of play used.

Committee of Eight Will Report Friday

Decatur Must Go Over Top By Then—Danville In Running For Eighth Franchise.

BULLETIN.

(Special Dispatch.)

Springfield, Ohio, Feb. 15— There is much enthusiasm prevailing among the base ball fans over the fact that they are within $2,000 of the $10,000 required for the organization of a club in the Three I league. The committees have been given until Wednesday night to raise the balance needed. George V. Sheridan, local newspaper publisher, was named chairman of the "booster" committee.

BY HOWARD V. MILLARD.

With Springfield hopelessly out of the running for a berth in the Three Eye League Decatur fans are looking toward Danville as the eighth city in the Tearney loop.

The fact that the Sangamos would not withdraw from the field and permit the use of their park by a fans association was the big reason for lack of interest in the "Capital City."

Harry Rush is to manage the Sangamos and they will continue to furnish the fans baseball this season at least.

DANVILLE ANXIOUS

With a baseball park ready for use and only a fans association needed prominent men in Danville are confident that they can put the city back in the Three Eye League.

The boosters in the Cannon town have a big meeting scheduled for tonight and not only have the officials of the Soldiers Home team back of them but the heads of the Rotary, Kiwanis, and other civic bodies as well as the mayor and city officials.

Arrangements were completed late Tuesday evening whereby Jack Ryan of Peoria, Charles Goelzer of Bloomington and two boosters from Decatur will attend the Danville meeting for the purpose of helping that city get started on the right foot.

REPORT ON FRIDAY.

Bill Starr chairman of the "Committee of Eight" announced Tuesday that all men appointed by this committee to canvas the city should turn in their reports to the team captains by Friday so that they would know just how things stand in De atur.

Mr. Starr received a wire from President Tearney Tuesday asking to be advised at once as to the situation here, It is because of that fact it is necessary for Decatur to be ready with a good report Friday and also help in every way possible to get Danville in the loop before two other cities in Ohio are given the franchises.

Decatur and Danville are the logical towns but Decatur must be ready for business this week end.

Rivals Play Friday.

Bement, Ill., Feb. 15—Local basketball fans are looking forward to the game with Monticello here Friday night. Since Harrisons team trimmed Decatur so handily they are expected to come through in good style against Firebaughs men. Tolono will play a curtain raiser for the big game. Wednesday night the local five is to meet Taylorville. H. V. Millard has been secured to officiate the Friday battle.

SPORT BRIEFS.

Philadelphia.—Gene Tunney, American light-heavy weight boxing champion, defeated Whitey Wenzel of Pittsburgh, the referee stopping the bout in the fourth round.

Chicago.—Marin Plestina defeated John Freberg in the eighth of a fifteen round wrestling contest. The men are heavy weights.

New York—Waite Hoyt, Yankee pitcher, signed his contract providing for an increase of "More than 100 per cent" in salary.

Minneapolis—Dr. H. L. Williams, former head football coach accepted the position of advisory coach in football at the university of Minnesota.

Try This One!

H. Pedersen is the champion fancy skater of St. Moritz in the Alps. Anyone who can do the above stunt and keep going deserves the championship.

Left Handed Hitters Seem More Troublesome At Plate

Although Clark Griffith's Great Twirler Says Any Good Batter Is Hard to Fool.

BY WALTER JOHNSON.

Do you prefer pitching to right or left handed batters?

If a fellow is a good batter, he is a hard man to fool whether he is a right hander or left hander.

I don't believe it makes much difference with me. If they are rated as good hitters I work equally hard on them regardless of which side of the plate they bat from.

GET CARELESS.

The greatest trouble with most pitchers, is that they grow careless when facing some batter who is supposed to be a weak hitter.

Very often an ordinary batter proves far more troublesome than the crack left or right hander, simply because the pitcher treats him with a show of indifference.

It has always seemed to me that most of the good left handed batters try to do more at the plate than the good right handers.

PLAYS THE GAME.

By that I mean the left hander thinks more of trying to place the ball, bunting when you least expect it, or waiting you out, to a far greater extent than the right hander.

What I want to say, is that the left hander while not harder to fool than the right hander, has a tendency to play a little more baseball in an effort to outguess the pitcher.

The fact that a left hander has a start to first on the right hander is, probably, what causes most of them to resort to the bunt more than the right hander.

"What batter makes the most trouble for me?"

FOURNIER HIT HIM.

That is rather hard to answer, because there are a lot of good hitters in the American League, and most of them have made plenty of trouble for me.

Jack Fournier, formerly with the White Sox and now with the St. Louis Cardinals, always increased his batting average at my expense.

Duffy Lewis, Tris Speaker, Derrill Pratt, Eddie Collins and Frank Baker are a few others who always liked my stuff.

SPRINGFIELD TO SEND 100 FANS

Word was received Wednesday morning from Springfield to the effect that 100 rooters would accompany their team here Friday for the game with Decatur high.

Officials at the red and white school also announced that the contest will start at 7:45 o'clock and that it will be played in the Decatur high gymnasium instead of Millikin as was first considered.

Harlow Sutherland the old Wesleyan forward and one of the officials fraternity in the Evergreen City will handle the whistle in this contest.

MORE THAN ONE WAY FOR ATTORNEYS TO GET IN LIMELIGHT

[By the Associated Press]

Chicago, Ill., Feb. 15—Speeding up baseball by permitting a batter to steal first base is a suggestion that ball commissioner guessing today. ball commissioner, guessing today.

The commissioner received a letter from Newton C. Gillham a Kansas City, Mo., attorney, in which he sugests that the theft privilege of a batter would offset the "scientific pitching" which, the attorney thinks, slows up the game from a fan's viewpoint. The "ins" and "outs" of the game are not properly balanced, according to Mr. Gillham.

"Let the batter steal first base," wrote the Missouri lawyer. "and this advantage of a pitcher over a batter will be equalized."

Mr. Gillham says that the average fan wants to see "men running the bases," and a change in the rules that will permit a fleet footed batter to pilfer the initial sack, he thinks, is the very thing needed to speed up the pastime.

Judge Landis and local baseball men are puzzled as to just how a batter would be able to steal first base with the pitcher having his eyes constantly on him. Mr. Gillham is clear in his statement that fans want to see "men running bases," but his letter offered no definite suggestion as to how base running can be accelerated. Simply giving a batter permission to steal first Judge Landis believes, will not serve to speed up the game.

LITIGANT "MISLED," DEFIES LAWYERS, STOPS WILL SUIT

[By the Associated Press]

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 15— Crying out to the judge that his lawyers had misled him, Louis McCreery, aged 80, of New Era, Mich., Tuesday brought the $500,000 McCreery will case to an abrupt and dramatic end. The trial was started Monday in the Sangamon County Circuit court.

Rising from his seat by his lawyers, and with his feeble hand raised and white head shaking with emotion, he called out:

"Stop it, your honor. Please stop it. These lawyers misrepresented things to me. I don't want it to go on. I want to go back home."

PUSHES PAST ATTORNEYS.

Attorneys attempted to quiet the old man, but he pushed himself past them, up before the judge.

"I haven't seen Johnnie in years," he told the court. "I don't want to break his will. I wasn't told the truth. Please stop it."

Judge E. S. Smith talked with him a moment and then, after calling the lawyers into consultation, ordered the case stricken from the docket.

The will under contest was that of John H. McCreery, his nephew, owner and veteran manager of the St. Nicholas hotel here. He had divided his $500,000 estate among three relatives and the housekeeper at the hotel, Mrs. Alice B. Henry, giving her the largest share.

WON BY WOMAN'S STORY.

Mrs. Henry, the defense maintained, had mothered Mr. McCreery for many years and had been constantly with him in his last illness, solely to care for him.

The story of her care for his nephew, told the jury in the opening statement, broke Louis McCreery down, and when the first witness was called to affirm the opening statement, he gave way to emotion and broke away from his lawyers to end the case.

"I'm going right back home," McCreery told newspaper men.

Chicago, Feb. 15—Thieves stole an automobile in Evanston, drove it to the First Presbyterian church, broke into the church, carried out the large safe, placed it in the car and drove rapidly away. Evanston police found the safe Tuesday in a field several miles away, with the door forced open. But the contents were untouched.

They comprised an eight years' collection of sermons and other writings.

$1-A-DAY MAN NOW RETIRES ON OIL

Builds $250 Palace with Own Hands.

Franklin, Ky.—James Arthur Poteet, whose $1-a-day income recently was swelled to one of $51 when five oil wells were brought in on his farm near here, his "retired," it became known when he quit his farm hand job.

With the wealth pouring in from his sixty-four-acre farm, which he purchased several years ago for a total of $10, Poteet has set out for a spend part of it. He has just finished building a home, erected by his own hands at the cost of $250. The long-harbored desire of Mrs. Poteet for a sewing machine has been gratified and Poteet himself has spent $6 for a year's subscription to an oil magazine for his own enjoyment.

FIRST IMPROVEMENT.

Poteet's new home is the first improvement that has been made on the "worthless" land which he took off a friend's hands so the latter would not have to continue to pay taxes on it.

With the five wells flowing rapidly Poteet's income is increasing at such a rate that, Simpson county residents say, he soon will be the richest man in this section of the state. News of his wealth has been spread broadcast and he is being swamped with letters requesting donations for charity.

Church and Movies Prescribed As Twin Cure for Marital Ill

Chicago, Feb. 15—Church and the movies were named as twin cures for marital ills by Judge John F. Haas when Joseph Norwick was arraigned on complaint of his wife that he violated the Volstead act too frequently.

"I sentence you to a trip to the movies with your wife every day and to church as often as services are held," the judge said. He then assigned a bailiff to see that the first day's sentence was carried out.

"Take them to the first church you come to and after the service take them to the movies," he ordered. "All they need is to go around together a little more."

THREE DEAD IN CAR FROZEN IN THE ICE

Kansas City, Feb. 15—The bodies of two men and a woman were found in a closed automobile half submerged in Brush Creek in the south part of this city Wednesday. The car apparently had fallen with its occupants from a trestle and broken through the ice of the creek. The bodies were frozen in the ice which had formed inside the car.

FAKE STOCK CASES SWAMP DOCKETS

Washington, Feb. 15—Dockets of the nation's federal courts are stamped with fake stock swindling cases in which more than $140,000,000 has been taken from incautious investors Atty.-Gen. Daugherty said Tuesday night. There are, he added, 480 of these cases in the federal courts in which 874 persons have been arrested or indicted.

Most of the cases, he explained, were fake oil stock companies, although the swindling schemes ranged from bucket shops and mining stocks to patent "elephant catcher" promotions.

INVOLVES POSTAL LAW.

The department of Justice, Mr. Daugherty continued, comes into the prosecution of such cases through violation of the postal laws in the use of the mails to defraud, but he declared that in his opinion the matter was one for state action. A conference of state blue sky law commissioners, he suggested, should be held to frame a uniform law carrying a uniform punishment for stock swindlers. He also said he believed in more stringent state laws.

ILLINOIS LEADS.

Mr. Daugherty said that the northern district of Missouri led in the amount involved in pending fake stock cases with a total of $1,792,000, while the northern district of Illinois had the greatest number of cases with forty-three, the northern district of Texas stood second with forty-two and the southern district of New York had thirty-eight cases.

Sections of the country in which the blue sky schemes were particularly prevalent he declared, were Kansas City, Chicago, New York and Texas.

The Screen

Marshall Neilan has purchased the rights to Hugh McNair Kahler's "Fools First," which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post, the plot of which will be used as the basis for his next First National pictures following "Penrod," Freckles Barry's latest starring vehicle, recently completed.

Charles Ray hereafter will make only two pictures a year. He is going in more for quality and less for quantity.

Believed by many to be the most distinguished actor on the American stage today and the only worthy successor to the mantle of the late Richard Mansfield, Guy Bates Post has entered the ranks of screenland's great stars. His portrayal of the dual leading roles in the "Masquerader," whose film version for Associated First National marks his motion picture debut in a Richard Walton Tully Production, has become a stage classic.

Harold Lloyd's new contract with Pathe is said to call for $300,000 for each picture and the production of six pictures a year. That would make his income $1,800,000 a year.

However, Lloyd will have to pay the cost of production of his pictures.

WHEAT MARKET ASCENDS SHARPLY

Chicago, Feb. 15.—Wheat prices turned downward today to a moderate extent during the early trading, general selling having developed as consequence of lower quotations from Liverpool.

Opinions were expressed in some quarters that the recent advance in values had been overdone and that further immediate export buying on a large scale was unlikely. On the decline in prices here, however, something of a renewal of lively demand from commission houses was encountered and a fractional upturn in prices ensued. Opening quotations, which varied from ½c to 1⅛c lower, with May $1.37@1.38 and July $1.20⅛@1.20¾, were followed by a slight additional setback and then by some recovery.

Later the market ascended sharply, May getting above $1.41, influenced by bullish domestic crop reports, better over-trade and by indications of some fresh export business. The close was unsettled, 1⅜@2¾c net higher with May $1.41@1.41⅛ and July $1.22¾@1.23½.

Corn and oats eased down in price a little with wheat. After opening ¼@⅝c lower, May 60⅛@60⅛c, the corn market held close to the initial range.

Subsequently the corn market scored an advance to the highest prices yet this season. Speculators bought freely.

Oats also advanced with considerable vigor.

Corn closed strong, 1⅜ to 2¾@2⅜ higher with May 62⅞ to 62⅞@63.

Oats started ½@⅝c off, May 40⅞@41c, and later showed a tendency to react.

Provisions declined with grains, despite new upturns in the value of hogs.

WHEAT CONTINUES IN GOOD CONDITION

Springfield, Ill., Feb. 15.—Wheat continues generally in good condition in the central counties, and fair to good in the south, although there are complaints of freezing and thawing, according to the weekly bulletin of the weather bureau issued Wednesday.

"The roads," the bulletin says, "are good in most areas. The sunshine has been ammple."

CORN ADVANCES TO 44 CENTS

Drafts Begin Coming Into Local Banks.

Corn advanced to forty-four cents for station buyers in this county Wednesday with the feeling that the better prices are here to stay. "We did think there might be a reaction this week," said one grain dealer who has been watching the market carefully, "and we would not have been surprised at lower prices by this time, but if this trend holds for another day or so we will feel that it is more or less permanent."

Wheat's continued advance with an export demand for all grains have combined to put new confidence into the corn market.

DRAFTS COMING IN.

"We are beginning to notice the drafts for grain coming in now," said a Decatur banker Wednesday. "The process is a slow one, of course, but the returns are beginning to trickle in."

Oats are very firm but cash bids indicated that the demand for this grain is rather light and heavy buyers are not anxious to accumulate stocks.

Hogs continue to hold their very strong position but advances Wednesday were so slight that no change in quotations were made by local packers.

Poultry and dairy products show several changes, eggs going to 34 cents.

COLD WEATHER HARD ON WHEAT

Snow Would Be Good Now Says A. A. Hill.

This weather is hard on wheat, in the opinion of A. A. Hill of Decatur, who was carefully scanning wheatfields from the car window while on his way to Springfield Monday. It is an unusually heavy freeze and the ground is bare. A blanket of snow at this juncture would be of immense value to the wheat crop but there isn't any snow. In many wheat fields there is not a vestige of green to be seen from the train. In others the wheat looks fairly well in the estimation of the experts.

DISCUSS TAX AT DURFEE SCHOOL

Supt. J. J. Richeson Goes Into Details on Situation.

A meeting of the Fathers' club of the Durfee school Tuesday evening was well attended and was altogether an interesting session. The meeting had been especially called to hear the proposed increase in the public school levy debated by Attorney James A Henson and Superintendent John J. Richeson in which it was understood that Attorney Henson would speak against the proposed increase and Superintendent Richeson for it. Attorney Henson failed to appear. Superintendent Richeson was called upon and presented the case of the schools clearly and forcibly.

After Mr. Richeson's talk there was some discussion of the proposed increase in the school tax. One man said he was against it for the reason that he was paying as much tax on his property as a neighbor was paying on a property of three times the value.

CHILDREN NOT TO BLAME.

Superintendent Richeson replied that if this were true it was no fault of the board of education or of the schools. Neither the school board or the school children make the tax assessment and if a man has been unjustly assesed he has no right to take his spite out on the school children.

The first speaker admitted the justice of this. He said that he had no children of his own in the schools but he has some grand children that are coming on.

Another speaker said that he had recently moved to Decatur from a smaller town and very much to his surprise he had found his taxes here less than they were in the smaller place.

SPECIAL FUND FOR BOOK.

Another speaker had been living in St. Louis. He found taxes here pretty much the same as there but in St. Louis all school books are provided to public school pupils free of charge.

Business Manager Arthur Kinkade who had just come in from another meeting asked the privilege of replying to this. He said that in Missouri all school books are provided through a special state fund raised for this particular purpose. St. Louis gets $450,000 of that fund. We have no such provision in Illinois and are therefore obliged to go down into our own pockets for the cost of school books.

MILLIKIN SENIORS APPEAR IN GOWNS

J. J. Richeson Gives Talk At Chapel.

CAN LEAD WORLD.

Mr. Richeson gave several illustrations as to why America though only in the sixth grade could lead the world, among them being the Chinese and the Russians. He spoke of the Cosmopolitan Club in New York City which is composed of students of 62 nations and how these people are looking to America "to light the world."

America Can Gain Good Will of World by Help to Starving of Europe

Miss Jane Addams Points Out to Great Audience at City Club America's Position.

"It a great human situation which confronts us It is not concerned with national lines or boundaries It is a great opportunity that the United States has to secure the good will and good opinion of the immigrants already in this country and of the multitudes abroad who will be saved from death by American food if we make a business of giving aid to the stricken millions in Russia and in other countries in Europe where the need is so great It is not a question of helping the government of the Bolsheviki. It is a question of saving the lives of millions of men women and children" said Jane Addams one of the famous women of America in her talk before the members of the City club and their guests to the number of 400 at the Y M C A annex Wednesday noon

JANE ADDAMS

BELIEVES LAW WRONG

Miss Addams spoke on the immigration problem in this country with particular reference to the present law which limits immigration according to the percentage of each nation now here and it is quite evident that she believes the law is not in the best interests of this country nor in the ... of humanity

A very large number of women were present at the luncheon and scores who did not attend the luncheon itself came in before Miss Addams started to talk

MANY WOMEN PRESENT

Representatives of the Womans club the Art class the College club, the D A R the study class Womans council Delphian Parent-Teachers association St Patricks Womans club and of the various philanthropic organizations in the city were present at the luncheon

Miss Addams was introduced by Miss ... M Bacon a long time friend of the famous social worker after M C Nelson president of the club had made his announcements

SEE AMERICA PROSPEROUS

In Europe said Miss Addams there exists an exaggerated idea of the prosperity in the United States and also a feeling that this country is ... what it could do to hasten ... the various parts of Europe to normal conditions The ... great ... of food stuffs ... three clips ... which are still on hand in the United States the report that half the world's supply of gold is here ... of corn for ... minds of ... native of ... Austria Russia and else ... is not doing ... might

LOSING PRESTIGE

... Miss Addams is ... to lose that ... in the minds of the foreign ... held for so many decades as the land of opportunity and there is a growing tendency there to look ... America as the future location ... for their children ... United States

Miss Addams told some of the grim ... which ... out of Russia and out of Vienna of starving ... and starving villages told ... Americans who have made close ... who have lived ... at various capacities She told of ... millions of children who are ... because of the efforts made by Mr Hoover through the American Relief association and she also spoke of the terrible need ... to be met

HOW THEY LIVE

Miss Addams told ... story ... of ... Quaker women who had ... a Russian village in the ... where the drought had reduced the harvest from ... one fortieth of the usual crop when the inhabitants of ... village had gathered grass had ... grass and had ... it ... could be made into ... and these ... for the winter for food for ... inhabitants when the slim crop of ... had all been con...sumed

... of a man who while ... had dug ... himself his wife and ... saying that there ... relief which would be ... to dig it after they ... the supply of the grass ... Miss Addams ... Quaker woman who told ... was not a ... time ... of that ... in that great grave

HOW ... BROUGHT FAMINE

... who said she had not ... talk about Russia said ... drought had come ... and had brought ... and that to ... the Bolshevik government ... although she did ... the government had requisitioned the grain from the peasants ... too little

... of how some ... wherein ... and cotton ... districts in Austria and Germany ... was prevented by having ... cheap wool and cotton ... United States to be ... products as a ... commerce which ... difference in the value of the American and foreign money made it impossible along the ordinary channels of business

PLEADS FOR AID

Miss Addams ... humanitarian ... American ... she pleaded for ... which ... would be extended ... nations as a means to restore to them their former ideals of the real heart of America They are grateful for what is being and has been done but millions will die before the next harvest unless aid is furnished

"The alien is just a human being who has not yet become an American citizen" said Miss Addams in speaking of the prejudice which has followed the war about this word 'alien It is just a dictionary word The alien may be just as good just as virtuous just as wise and just as deserving as an American citizen The alien man woman or child is a human being whether he lives in this country or abroad It is simply a human problem we are facing not a national one

Miss Addams told of her trip to Europe made last summer and of the conditions of the smaller nations of that continent She spoke of the newly formed governments in which the younger people of the country and the women as well as the men are working to build up some form of efficient government to rule the little nations The spirit and energy with which the younger generation is taking hold of the situation and helping is something to be admired she said It is surprising how hard the people of the war stricken nations are working for the reorganization and building up of their countries

WOMEN TAKING PART

ORGANIZE WORK

The organization of the various bureaus clubs and welfare stations has grown on a large scale she stated and any organization that is flourishing here is soon started in Europe with as much if not more success All of the organizations including the clubs for younger people are working for the betterment of the nation and in spite of the very depressing conditions in financial matters and the hard times the people are realizing a new feeling and spirit in life and working toward a prosperous government

Switchmen Help Young Couple Walking From Colorado to Detroit

Found in Box Car Without Good Shoes or Clothing —Money Raised to Pay Car Fare.

Penniless and without really enough clothes to warm them, with holes in their shoes covered up by paper Wabash switchmen Tuesday night took an unfortunate young couple from a Wabash box car and proceeded to play the part of a good Samaritan to the strangers They have been walking from Pueblo Colo to Detroit, where the man has been told by a friend that he could get a job In the meantime they are being cared for in the home of one of the switchmen in Decatur and the yard employes are raising enough money to pay the fare of the two travelers to Detroit on the train

RUINED

Barely over thirty years of age they are the parents of four children the oldest about eight and still a fifth arrival is expected soon They owned a home in Pueblo The flood came along and washed away the house and everything they owned except the clothes on their back With the lot still under water the pair with the four children started walking to Detroit on Dec 1 All they owned was the deed to their lot

The children of course retarded their travel excepting now and then when they caught an occasional ride in an auto But at Kansas City the authorities required that the children be put in an orphans' home at that place until the parents got into a position to take care of them They carry the papers to show that they still retain the right to their children

WALKED MOST OF THE WAY

They traveled most of the distance by foot even sleeping out in the cold at night They had not ridden a single train until they reached a point on the Springfield division of the Wabash At this point a train crew insisted on their coming into the caboose to ride and the couple was very reluctant fearing they might get into some sort of trouble

Tuesday night the two decided to try a box car for a sleeping place when the switch crew discovered them Asked how they would like to go and sleep in a good warm home they replied that they were afraid it would only cause them to catch colds in case they slept in a warm house one night and then out in the open on the next night The switchmen then told them they would take them to a warm home and also raise the money to pay their fare the rest of the way Wednesday morning all but $ ... of the necessary amount was raised and it was thought they could get away some time Thursday for Detroit

D. R. & L. to Offer Franchise Next Week

Citizens' Committee May Consider Document With Council Before Action Is Taken.

It is expected that the Decatur Railway & Light Co will submit a street railway franchise for the consideration of the city not later than the middle of next week

The council now has the recommendations of the citizens committee on the franchise and the various conditions which that body of representative citizens finally voted to propose as their suggestions for the twenty year agreement between the city and the company Whether or not the council will ask the same committee to study with it the proposition which the street railway company will present is not yet known although it is known that some members of the council would be glad to talk over the offer of the company with the committee before a final decision is reached

TRADING PROPOSITION

It is also rather expected that the franchise which will be offered will be a trading proposition although it is believed that the recommendations made by the citizens committee will carry considerable weight with both the city council and the street railway officials

It is believed that the service at cost plan as now generally understood will not be offered that the street paving situation will be taken up and that the company will do the paving How that paving will be paid for and how extensions and changes will be financed has not yet been stated

WANT LOW FARES

According to statements made by all parties concerned there is a general agreement on the desirability of low fares—both from a community interest and from business development on the street car lines themselves

Whether the street car company will offer to go into the business of giving auxiliary transportation in the way of modern busses or even of trackless trolley service is not stated but it is believed that the need of service in certain parts of the city not now served by the street railway will be recognized

WAIT ON BUS RULING

No ruling has yet come from the Illinois Commerce commission on the bus question What that ruling will be may have some bearing on the franchise question itself as the street railway officials have frankly stated that irresponsible competition is a serious handicap in the development of permanent and efficient street railway service in any city

MORE TO BE HEARD

It was expected that a dozen or more tractor representatives would appear before the committee and after that the road grader and maintainer men will be heard

The state aid road committee wishes to purchase four complete outfits for road maintenance Each of these will consist of a light tractor a grader and a drag or a maintainer which combines the grader and the drag In addition to this a large outfit may be purchased

ON STATE AID ROADS

This machinery is to be used for the maintenance of the eighty-five miles of state aid road which the county is required under the new road law to take over and keep up It is proposed by the state road committee to not merely work these roads as has been done by the township highway commissioners but to inaugurate a system of permanent betterment which will be continued steadily This will include grading and widening permanent culverts and bridges and perhaps of graveling or other wearing surface

All of the members of the road committee are present at the hearing The committee consists of Chairman Vulgamott and Supervisors Scott Potter Lider and Huddleston
